

Thursday 17th March 2022

Hi Everyone,

It definitely feels like spring has really begun to arrive properly this week, with lighter mornings and evenings, the forecast is looking great for the weekend ahead!

Unfortunately, we have had a spike in Covid cases this week in school with cases across the school between children and staff, even though we are learning to live with the virus, it appears we haven't seen the last of it frustratingly. As always, it is really important to test your children before you send them in if they are showing any symptoms of being unwell relating to Covid so that we can stop any further spread of infection. Just to add to this week, we appear to have a small outbreak of Norovirus in Year 4, should your child vomit, please do keep your child at home for 48 hours, again in order to stop any further spread. What a delightful week! Power on!

Tomorrow we will be celebrating Red Nose Day in school, I am very aware that over the past two weeks, we have been very busy with several dress up days, so whilst we are very keen to support Red Nose Day, we are inviting the children and staff to just come to school in non-uniform or in their Red Nose Day t shirts. Anything goes and there is no specific dressing up. We would be very grateful if the children come to school with some spare change to make a donation to this amazing charity, which improves lives across the UK and around the world.

This week we took delivery of our very own Book vending machine! The children and staff are delighted with it and very excited to get a golden token to go chose a book to keep as a reward for excellent learning behaviours, effort or attitude! A huge thank you to the PTA and our families for making this vision become a reality with all of the smartie fund raising efforts!

As I previously wrote last week, we still have a final few places remaining in our nursery for September, if you or you know a friend or family member, who would like their child to have a place in our nursery. If you require more details please ring our school office and we can help you further. We are holding an open morning on Wednesday the 6th of April between 9.15am and 11.15am for any parents, who would like to come and visit our nursery, just call school to book a slot.

Don't forget on Friday 1st of April, we are going to open our doors once again for our families to come and spend some time in your child's classroom and see all the wonderful learning that has been going on over the spring term. This will be from 1.30pm-2.45pm. We look forward to seeing you there.

Enjoy the sunshine!

Kind regards

Mrs Bennett

Headteacher

Hello
Sunshine!

